Anchor Investor

❖ Context

- Shares of a prominent PSU, which had recently launched its IPO, had fallen considerably as anchor investors sold the shares after the lock-in period ended.

❖ About Anchor Investor

- An anchor investor in an IPO is a qualified institutional buyer (QIB) like a foreign portfolio investor or mutual fund or insurance company.
- Anchor investors were introduced to the financial markets in 2009. They are allowed up to 30% of the issues' portion available for Qualified Institutional Bidders (QIB).
- They buy shares in a large number at prices fixed by the company and get a confirmed allotment. This increases a retail investor's confidence in the demand for the shares.
- Each anchor investor has to invest a minimum of ₹10 crores for the issue.

- There can be a minimum of 15 anchor investors if the offer is less than ₹250 crores. However, if the offer size is more than ₹250 crores, the number of anchor investors can be increased to 25.
- As initial investors, they make the IPO process more attractive for investors and instil confidence in them.
- Anchor investors also aid in price discovery of the IPO.
- Lock in period
 - These anchor investors cannot sell their shares till 30 days from the allotment date. This period of thirty days is called the lock-in period.
 - Since they have invested a considerable sum in the issue, any sale would make the price of the shares fall. This lock-in period prevents them from selling the shares and hurting the price of the shares.
